

The Thermal Panel Manufacturers Association

is a professional organisation that is committed to the disciplines and standards of quality associated with the manufacture of thermal panel insulation and related activities.

Are people who understand.....

..... why roses need to get to the market looking as good as just picked.

...Cold Room Design and Construction

- Climate Change
- Energy Efficiency
- Power Saving

.....why some milk travels better.

.....why beef should be well hung

...why fruit and vegetables need to be fresh and crisp

.....why wine should be chilled and beer served ice cold.

.....why chickens need the best environment to lay the best eggs.
